How to use Printing Foam

Five Star Printing Foam is an economical, soft surface sheet of polystyrene. Its easy-to-use print-making surface produces fine detailed lines and patterns which can be reproduced an unlimited number of times. No cutting tools are required making this method an excellent introduction to printmaking for all age levels.

Method:

To produce the design, simply draw on the foam with a pencil or ballpoint pen, pressing lines and areas into the sheet. Ensure the indentation is quite deep – you may need to go over the indented lines again. Or you may prefer to draw your design on a sheet of paper, then place it over the printing foam and trace – again ensuring the lines are deep enough to make a good print.

Squeeze paint from the tube onto a piece of paper or a plastic plate. Roll the foam roller through the paint and then over your printing foam design, making sure there is sufficient coverage. Be creative and use other colours.

Place a sheet of paper over the painted printing foam. Using the palm of your hand press firmly all over, then carefully lift off the paper and leave to dry.

Five Star Printing Foam

No cutting tools needed – simply draw fine detailed lines and patterns by pressing into the foam with a semi-blunt instrument (e.g. a pencil or ballpoint pen). Then roller on a water-based printing ink or paint, apply paper, and gently smooth down. Peel off for an instant print! Can be reprinted over and over. Available in two sizes: Small (190mm x 130mm) and Large (280mm x 190mm). Sold in packets of 10.
